Evidence

Of Jesus (God) Being Conceived Human

with Zero Wisdom, Knowledge, and Understanding.

The Ultimate Sacrificial Act

He willingly emptied Himself of His “All-Knowing” characteristics and took on all attributes, responsibilities, and obligations of a human son.

“But of that day and that hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father.” “And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man.” “...O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me...” “...My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?” (Matthew 26:39, 27:46; Mark 13:32; Luke 2:52)

Zero Wisdom, Knowledge, and Understanding - INTRODUCTION -

God created the family model as one of the few components used to redeem man back to Himself. The family model consists of a father (man), a mother (woman), and from both of them together, a child (also, children or adopted children). Christians became adopted children as a result, and therefore, “...heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ...” as stated in Romans 8:15-17. As such, we can now legally and correctly address God as Father, my Father, or our Father, as Jesus did. We are then no longer called servants, but sons or children of God in Galatians 4:1-7; never slaves! (Any religious text claiming that Christians are slaves of God is not correct).

(Slaves are NOT automatic heirs; biological and/or adopted children are. In Leviticus 25:39-46 and 1 Kings 9:22, the children of God were COMMANDED never to be called, sold, or treated as slaves. They were slaves once in Egypt but were never supposed to become or return to slavery again. Slavery and freedom from it are a type, or pattern of salvation: a freedom from the slavery of sin).

In Hebrews 1:5, the Father said: “...this day...” and “...I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son?” Two members of the Godhead then took on two attributes (or roles similar to committee roles in an organization) of the family model: Father and Son. Thus, there was a “previous day” when they were neither Father nor Son. (See Hebrews 5:5, 8 and more, later in Section One). One member of the Godhead became the Son of God and the Son of Man through Mary, a woman who was chosen to be His mother.

Every human, except for Adam and Eve, was conceived with zero wisdom, knowledge, and understanding. They then had to grow, going through the natural routine and processes to be taught and given these character qualities. (Adam and Eve were created and not conceived through the union of a man and woman). Therefore, one member of God (by His own will, desire, and choice) was conceived as a human (He predestinated Himself to become one of us), and went through the natural process to be taught and increased in wisdom, knowledge, and understanding.

At conception in Mary's womb, He chose not to tap into His omniscient attribute until after His death. Therefore He depended solely on the Father (the other member of the Godhead) to guide, direct, teach, tell, and instruct Him on His earthly mission and message. In other words, He willingly placed aside or emptied Himself at conception of "All-Knowing" characteristics and took on all the attributes, responsibilities and obligations, of a human son.

Jesus was the Word (John 1:1, 14). He knew all the Old Testament by heart, word for word, when He was born. He was and still is the Word. The words of the Old Testament came gifted or planted into His consciousness. No one taught it to Him when He was born, He was gifted with it because He was IT! Its presence manifested itself in Him (Is. 11:1-3). “...Lo, I come (in the volume of the book it is written of me,) to do thy will, O God...Sacrifice and offering and burnt offerings and offering for sin thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein; which are offered by the law; Then said he, Lo, I come to do thy will, O God...” (Heb. 10:7-9).

(Isaiah 11:2-3 said: “And the spirit of the LORD shall rest upon him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the LORD; And shall make him of quick understanding in the fear of the LORD; and he shall not judge after the sight of his eyes, neither reprove after the hearing of his ears...”).

Like a gifted chess player who was not taught the skills of the game but became the world's chess champion. Like the young child Solomon (1 Kings 3:7), who became the wisest man on the planet in his day and like Samson who was the strongest man during his lifetime. Like great Christian scholars born years before our time, who were gifted and could have spoken several foreign languages fluently, but they were never taught the foreign language in the classroom. (When the Holy Spirit comes upon someone, as He did in the Book of Acts Chapter Two, His gift award is powerful).

The difference He had over everyone else from conception was that God (The Father) was directly involved in audibly communicating with Him (as He did with the prophets in the Old Testament) by teaching and telling Him things He needed to know and do, like the way earthly parents would. (His Father even told Him from the beginning of His ministry those who would not believe His message and who would betray Him, as stated in John 6:64). As His Father taught Him (along with His earthly mother), He alone heard His voice and no one else except for the event recorded in John 12:28-30.

As The Son, “Who, being...equal with God” demonstrated true love, obedience, submission, and subjection towards The Father (Phil. 2:5-11).

Now, as a 100% human and the Son of God, everything He did was either by the Father or the Father authorized Him to use His power and abilities, including performing miracles on His own. Also, we see that throughout the four gospels of the New Testament, Jesus clearly demonstrated a son’s relationship and reverence towards His Father with TRUE obedience, submission, deep respect, honor, etc. In other words, this is how all sons (and daughters) relationships with fathers ought to be.

For example, Jesus repeatedly said throughout the Books of Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John, “My Father gave me the authority;” “My Father’s will;” “I do the will of my Father;” “My Father sent me;” “I do what my Father does;” “I honour my Father;” “My Father appointed me;” “My Father is greater than I.”

Even those who are fathers love it when they hear their little kids honoring them to others this way: my father is this; my father is that. My dad said this; my dad said that. My dad is my hero; etc., etc. Think of how God the Father (who took on all attributes of Fatherhood according to Hebrews 1:5) felt hearing these remarks from His Son.

God designed the office of a son towards his father to always be one that is in submission and subjection but not equal in authority. We see this in many scriptures, including the fifth commandment given by God at Exodus 20:12. Therefore, as a result, Jesus was a perfect example of His role as a Son towards His Father.

(The “my Father is greater than I” statement above found at John 14:28 is basically using the same comment Joseph used in Genesis 39:9. He said, “There is none greater in this house than I,” referring to His employee’s or corporate position. In Jesus’ case, the statement referred to His family’s or sonship’s position. Remember that Joseph was a type or pattern of Christ. As a result, all fathers can appreciate what Jesus said at John 5:19).

Can a son achieve greatness far beyond that of his father? King David’s son, Solomon, became greater than his father in wisdom, knowledge, and understanding. He was greater in strength and the most powerful king during his days. He was also greater in riches and wealth and was feared and well respected by the surrounding nations, who were once his father’s enemies. Solomon was well known among the kings of the earth. David was greater [his family position as father] than his son, but his son became greater than him even though both were biologically equal.

The scientific method of DNA proves that biological father and son are from the same substance, therefore, making them equal. In John 5:17-18, the Jews perceived this very well, which was why they tried to kill Jesus for calling God His Father. Nevertheless, the point here is that because Jesus Christ was the “only begotten Son of the Father” who legally became human through the human channel of conception and birth, we can therefore confidently say that He is then equal in substance with His Father).

Finally, if Jesus was 100% MAN (and He was), then Mark 13:32 had to have included Him: “But of that day and that hour knoweth NO MAN, no, not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father” only.

- EVIDENCE ONE -

Now, very early in Jesus’ infant and youthful years, Lucifer (“...the god of this world...” mentioned at 2 Corinthians 4:4) no-doubt, figured out based on very basic, obvious, and natural clues as He grew up (read the section at the end called: The Absolute Perfection of Jesus Christ), that He had to have been conceived with zero wisdom, knowledge, understanding. Therefore, He went through the natural routine and processes of being taught by His parents and told who He (Jesus) was: the Son of God and the Messiah. This was why he (the devil) made the statements, “...If thou be the Son of God...” and “...All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me...” in Matthew 4:3, 6, and 8.

Satan was once in heaven and knew God very well before He (Jesus Christ) came to the planet as a human. Even though he (Satan) might have believed that Jesus was incorruptible (or it may have been impossible to succeed in tempting Him because of His all-knowingness), if he was convinced that Jesus came knowing who He was from conception without being told who He was, then he would not have addressed the questions and put forth the challenges to Him the way he did. His temptation strategies and questions would have been different because if Jesus came all-knowing, He would have already known in advance all those questions and had answers for them. (Satan himself would have known this serious advantage Jesus had).

Examine the questions and conversations closely and carefully from Satan in Matthew and Luke 4:3-10 and especially verse 9.

Satan would not have offered Him “the kingdoms of the world,” knowing fully well that Jesus knew He created it and can do whatever He pleases with it, even taking it back if He so wishes without bowing down to anyone. Satan knew within himself that he did not create “the kingdom of the world” or bring it into existence from nothing, but he knew Jesus did. Therefore, for him to offer it to the one who created it all was absurd, knowing that Jesus can freely recreate it again if He so wishes, just by speaking it into existence. Keep in mind that Satan is very wise; he’s no dummy!

After showing Jesus the kingdoms of the world, Satan said in Matthew 4:9, “...all these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me.” This was a very STRANGE offer to the All-Powerful, the Almighty, and God who created it all. If Jesus came All-Knowing, He (Jesus) would have “truthfully” and “rightfully” (obligatorily, especially if He knew everything said was to be written or recorded) replied (after Satan arrogantly said what he did in Matthew 4:9 and Luke 4:6-7): “I created it all; not you! I can create it again and again if I so wish!” (The truthful and perfectly righteous characteristics of an All-Knowing person would be obligated to say this or say something similar, even more so, knowing if it was to be written).

There must have been a mysterious secret that Satan knew, but Jesus only knew from being told by His parents: God the Father and Mary, Jesus’ mother. (Mysterious secret meaning: Satan knew the turn of events from the moment he was created by Jesus, his rebellious action against God, his expulsion from heaven, and the activities from the Garden of Eden to the then-current occasion. Also, he had to conclude that one member of the Godhead came to earth as a human and had to go through the process of increasing and growing in wisdom, knowledge, and understanding).

Knowing you are the inventor or the creator is mentally (and thus, responsively) processed differently than if you were told that you were, but have no recollection of the proceedings.

If Satan was convinced Jesus came knowing He was the Son of God, the Creator of the universe (came all-knowing with His omniscient attributes without being told that He was by God, the Father), then to be truly effective in his approach, his seductive, strategically tricky comments would have been constructed and addressed differently. He may have questioned why his work was being destroyed before the time.

It may have been obvious that Satan himself was uncertain about how much Jesus knew of Himself. This was why the first question was: “If thou be the Son of God...?” He may have been expecting Jesus’ answer to be: I am God and don’t need to prove anything to you! This answer would have shutdown the remaining temptation attempts by Satan. Because Jesus responded by saying: “It is written....” quoting an Old Testament text, it could have hinted to Satan that His only knowledge of events were those already written in the scriptures or what His Father had revealed to Him.

Nevertheless, Jesus knew without any doubt that He was indeed the Son of God, the Messiah, the Savior of the world because sometime, very early in His life as a human, God, His Father, told Him so (see proof in the next two paragraphs). He was perfectly faithful and obedient to all His Father’s instructions. Also, He believed and accepted, without doubting, everything and all of His Father’s communication, even up to His sacrificial death for the sins of the whole world.

In Hebrews 1:5-14, Jesus must have heard when the Father told “...all the angels of God...” to “...worship him.” This was because shortly afterward (in verse eight), God the Father said to Jesus His Son: “... Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever...And, Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the works of thine hands...but thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail.” Jesus, (already filled with great wisdom and wiser than Solomon at a very young age), hearing His Father loud and clear, accepted without doubting what was actually said. Jesus replied in Hebrews 10:5-9: “... Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not, but a body hast thou prepared me: In burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin thou hast had no pleasure...Lo, I come (in the volume of the book it is written of me,) to do thy will, O God...Sacrifice and offering and burnt offerings and offering for sin thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein; which are offered by the law; ...Lo, I come to do thy will, O God...”

The Father and Son had to have been communicating back and forth, according to Hebrews 1:6 and 10:5, sometime between His conception or birth (“...when he bringeth in the firstbegotten into the world...”), but before He was at the age of twelve (Luke 2:42, 49). This was because Jesus very confidently said to His mother and stepfather: “...How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be about my Father’s business?” (Luke 2:49) He had already known His mission. (Study the above verses carefully.)

- EVIDENCE TWO -

Jesus said to the Father in three prayers, “... Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless, not my will, but thine, be done” (Luke 22:42). “...*Father, all things are possible unto thee; take away this cup from me: nevertheless not what I will, but what thou wilt” (Mark 14:36). “...*O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me: nevertheless not as I will, but as thou wilt” (Matthew 26:39). Imagine Jesus Christ, who is God, or a member of the Godhead saying, “if it be possible” as though He doesn’t know! Imagine Him, on His own, wanting to back out of the suffering He was about to enter; deciding on the natural response of a conquering king or the cup-bearing choice from the king’s father.

Jesus, God in human flesh, knew before His prayers that He was to die for the sins of the whole world, BUT He did not know how graphic the...To continue, scan the QR code or log on to the link below for the entire 12-page document called “Evidence of Jesus (God) being conceived Human with zero wisdom, knowledge, and understanding.”
